Employee Understands:

I understand that my place of employment is in Seattle, Washington.

The College of Engineering is allowing this modification at its sole discretion and retains the discretion to grant or deny permission to perform work away from my place of employment at any time.

Future roles/positions in the College or at the University may require my presence in Seattle, Washington.

I am taking sole responsibility for all my tax liability including but not limited to compliance with all local tax laws and I will remain in compliance with all local laws and I am responsible for financial or any other consequences of my failure to comply with any law.

The College of Engineering and University have not and are not able to provide me with any legal or tax advice regarding compliance with any local tax laws, certification laws, immigration laws, or any other laws that may apply to me.

I understand that working out of state makes me ineligible for PFML, Washington State Unemployment Insurance, Workers Compensation and other state benefits.

I understand that my benefits could be impacted by choosing to work out of state.

I understand that I am responsible for returning all University equipment and property upon separation from the University.

I will update my work location in Workday.

I understand that I may have to adjust my working hours to fit with Pacific Standard Time.
